THE SIR COWASJEE JEHANGHIER HALL OF THE UNIVERSITY OF BOMBAY.

Cowasjee Jehanghier Readymoney, Esquire, Justice of the Peace, in a letter to the Vice-Chancellor, Sir Alexander Grant, Bart., dated the 27th April 1863, offered the sum of Rs. 1,00,000 for the erection of University Buildings, under the following conditions:—That Government contribute the remainder of the sum necessary for the buildings, and grant a site on the Esplanade, and that no subscription from any other private person be received for this object.

This offer was accepted by Government and referred to the University, and at a Convocation of the Senate held on the 18th July 1863 the following Resolution was passed :—

" That the Senate accept the noble gift of Cowasjee Jehanghier, Esquire, with the liberal augmentation offered by Government, and with the recognition of the liabilities imposed on this University by its holding the University Buildings when completed, according to the Act of Incorporation: but on the understanding that Mr. Cowasjee concurs in the interpretation which Government puts upon his conditions in the third and fourth paragraphs in its letter, No. 260, dated 29th May 1863, to the address of Sir Alexander Grant, Bart., Vice-Chancellor.

Note.—The interpretation of Government referred to was as follows:—

"His Excellency in Council understands the third condition specified in Mr. Cowasjee Jehanghier's letter as implying that a building for the University is to be completed at the joint expense of that gentleman and of Government, without accepting contributions from any other source, so that it may form in itself a separate and permanent monument of Mr. Cowasjee Jehanghier's desire to provide the University with a local habitation.

"As, however, the duties and wants of the University increase, His Excellency the Governor in Council hopes that the example so worthily set by Mr. Cowasjee Jehanghier will be followed by other University Benefactors, and Government feel assured that that gentleman would be the last to exclude those who may wish to follow his noble example from adding to or adorning the edifice which he has been the first to raise."

This interpretation was formally accepted by Mr. Cowasjee Jehanghier in a letter to Government dated the 8th August 1873.

At a Meeting of the Senate held on the 4th March 1875, the following Resolution was unanimously passed:—

That in recognition of Sir Cowasjee Jehanghier Readymoney's noble gift of Rs. 1,00,000 for the erection of University Buildings, the Hall, now handed over by Government to the University, be named "The Sir Cowasjee Jehanghier Hall of the University of Bombay."

I. ELPHINSTONE COLLEGE.

(RECOGNIZED, 1860.)

Elphinstone College arose by a separation in the year 1856 of the Professorial element from the "Elphinstone Institution," which henceforth became a High School.

The Elphinstone Institution had its origin in a Meeting of the Bombay Native Education Society on the 22nd August 1827, to consider the most appropriate method of testifying the affectionate and respectful sentiments of the inhabitants of Bombay to the Honourable Mountstuart Elphinstone, on his resignation of the Government of Bombay. The result of this Meeting was that a sum of money amounting to Rs. 2,29,656 was collected by public subscription, towards the endowment of Professorships for teaching the English Language, and the Arts, Sciences, and Literature of Europe, to be denominated the Elphinstone Professorships. This sum afterwards accumulated to Rs. 4,43,901, and the interest of it is augmented by an annual subscription from Government of Rs. 22,000.

In 1863 Cowasjee Jehanghier Readymoney, Esq., Justice of the Peace, Bombay, presented Government with one hundred thousand Rupees towards erecting suitable College Buildings for Elphinstone College, to be called the "Cowasjee Jehanghier Buildings."

In 1864, on account of the rise in the prices of building-materials and labour, Mr. Cowasjee Jehanghier added a second sum of one hundred thousand Rupees to his former munificent donation. The Elphinstone College was removed on the 20th of February 1871 to the new Building on the Parel Road.

The property and endowments of the Elphinstone College are under the guardianship of the Trustees of the Elphinstone Funds. Present Trustees are Sir Jamsetjee Jejeebhoy, Bart., C.S.I.; Sir Mungaldass Nathoobhoy, Knight, C.S.I., and Náráyan Dáji Lád, G.G.M.C.

The following endowments are connected with the Elphinstone College :—

The West Scholarship Fund, subscribed in 1828, in honour of Chief Justice Sir Edward West.

The Clare Scholarship Fund, subscribed in 1835, in honour of the Earl of Clare, Governor of Bombay.

The Gaikawád Scholarship, established by His Highness the Gaikawád in 1850.

The Bell Prize Fund, subscribed in 1848, as a testimonial to Professor John Bell of the Elphinstone Institution.

II. DECCAN COLLEGE.

(RECOGNIZED 1860.)

On the occupation of the Deccan by the British Government in 1818 it was found that a certain portion of the revenues of the Maráthá State had been yearly set apart for pension and presents to Bráhmans (Dakshiná). To prevent hardship and disappointment, and to fulful the implied obligations of the new rulers, the British Government continued these payments; but as the pensions and allowances fell in, they resolved, while maintaining the same total expenditure, under the name of the Dakshiná Fund, to devote a portion of it to a more permanently useful end, in the encouragement of such kind of learning as the Bráhmans were willing to cultivate. With this view the Poona College was founded in 1821, as a Sanskrit College, exclusively for Bráhmans.

* Passed the F.A. Examination.

In 1837 some branches of Hindu learning were dropped; the study of the Vernacular and of English was introduced, and the College was opened to all classes, and after having been amalgamated with the English Schools in 1851 it arose in its present form in 1857, by a separation of the College division from the School division. From another portion of the Dakshiná Fund Dakshiná Fellowships have been founded, of which three, viz. one Latin Readership, one Senior Fellowship, and one Junior Fellowship, are attached to this College.

In 1863 Sir Jamsetjee Jejeebhoy, Bart., offered to Government the sum of one hundred thousand Rupees to provide suitable College buildings for the Deccan College.

The following endowments are connected with the Deccan College:—

VI. GRANT COLLEGE.

(RECOGNIZED 1860.)

Grant College was established in the year 1845, under the name of the Grant Medical College, as a tribute to the memory of the late Sir Robert Grant, Governor of Bombay, with whom the system of instruction pursued in it originated. The object of its establishment is "to impart, through a scientific system, the benefit of medical instruction to the Natives of Western India." A moiety of the cost of the building was defrayed by Sir Robert Grant's friends, the remainder by Government. The funds for the support of the College, with the exception of certain endowments for the encouragement of deserving students, are contributed by Government.

The College is under the immediate control of a Principal, who is subordinate to the Director of Public Instruction. Lectures are delivered in the English language on every branch of Medical Science by Professors, who are generally officers on the Bombay Medical Establishment.

There is also attached to the College a secondary School for the instruction of young men in Medical Science through the Maráthi and Gujaráthi languages. The Teachers are Graduates of the College and Licentiates of Medicine of the University of Bombay. Clinical and practical instruction is imparted in the Jamsetjee Jejeebhoy Hospital, which contains 350 beds, and has attached (a) an Obstetric Institution with 30 beds, and a Dispensary for Diseases of Women and Children; (b) an Ophthalmic Hospital (Cowasjee Jehanghier Ophthalmic Hospital) with 60 beds, and an Eye Dispensary for the treatment of persons affected with diseases of the eye; (c) a Hospital for incurables, built by the Sir Jamsetjee Jejeebhoy family, containing 40 beds. There are also two detached buildings, each with 20 beds, for the treatment of persons suffering from Contagious Diseases.

The Students are arranged in three classes:—

1. Graduates and Under-Graduates of the University of Bombay, who are educated through the English language for Medical Degrees.

2. Members of the European Branch of the Government Medical Subordinate Department, who are educated through the English language for the grades of Apothecary and Assistant Surgeon.

3. Members of the Native Branch of the Government Medical Subordinate Department, and Candidates from various Anglo-Vernacular Schools of the Presidency and Mofussil, who are educated through the Maráthi language for the grade of Hospital Assistant.

The College possesses the following endowments:—

The Farish, Carnac, Anderson, Reid, McLennan, Jamkhandi, Cowasjee Jehanghier Readymoney, Mungaldass Nathoobhoy, Byramjee Jeejeebhoy and Keshavji Naik Scholarships and Medal Funds; the Sir Jamsetjee Jejeebhoy Medical Book Fund, Prize Fund, and Gold Medal Fund, Sir J. P. Willoughby, His Highness the Gaikawad of Baroda, and Dinsháh Mánekji Petit Book Funds, and Hemabhoy Vakatchand Medal Fund; the Burnes and Arnott Medals.

The aggregate sum on account of these endowments, amounting to Rupees 1,16,800, is lodged in the Government Treasury.

Formerly the College conferred upon its students a Diploma or License to practice Medicine, and the designation "Graduate of Grant College." There are at the present time fifty-four such Graduates, who are either engaged in the private practice of their profession or are in the service of Government. Upon the establishment of the University of Bombay the College ceased to grant diplomas, and became affiliated to the University as a College for medical education.

VII. POONA CIVIL ENGINEERING COLLEGE.

(RECOGNIZED 1865.)

The Poona Civil Engineering College arose out of a School established in Poona in 1854 by Government, at the suggestion of Lieut.-Colonel (now Major-General) Walter Scott, Bombay Engineers, for the purpose of educating subordinates for the Public Works Department.

The College is under the control of the Principal, who is subordinate to the Director of Public Instruction.

The College is divided into three Departments:—

1. Matriculated students of the University of Bombay, who are educated through the English language for University Degrees in Civil Engineering.

2. Students, who are educated through the medium of the English language up to the standard required for qualification as Overseers.

3. Vernacular students, who prosecute their studies in the College and the Workshops attached to it with the object of becoming educated Maistries.

Attached to the College are workshops, where practical instruction is conveyed to the students, and where work of various kinds is executed for Government and the Public.

In July 1863, Cowasjee Jehanghier Readymoney, Esquire, offered to Government the sum of Rupees 50,000 to assist in the erection of suitable Buildings for the College. The foundation-stone was laid by His Excellency Sir Bartle Frere on the 5th August 1865.

Fellowships.

Four Fellowships of Rs. 25, each tenable for one year, are attached to the College.

Scholarships.

The following Scholarships, each tenable for one year, are annually open for competition :—

McDougall Scholarship.

On the retirement from India of the Rev. James McDougall in 1862, a subscription was raised by the ex-Students of the Poona Civil Engineering College for the purpose of perpetuating in the then School the name of its former Principal. A sum of Rupees 1,300 was subscribed, and from the interest accruing from this sum an amount of Rupees 72 is placed annually at the disposal of the Principal to be awarded as a Scholarship to the most deserving student.

Frere Scholarship.

At a Meeting of the Native inhabitants of Poona, held on 11th November 1866, Khán Bahádur Padamji Pestanji presiding, it was resolved—That in order to perpetuate in Poona the memory of His Excellency Sir Bartle H. E. Frere, a fund be raised, and a Scholarship in connection with His Excellency's name be established in the Poona Civil Engineering College. This Scholarship, value Rupees 25 per mensem, is tenable for one year, and will be conferred on that student who shall have obtained most marks in the preceding First Examination in Civil Engineering, provided that he shall not at the same time hold a Fellowship or Scholarship in any College affiliated to the University.

THE UNIVERSITY HALL.

The Syndicate have the pleasure of announcing to the Senate that the University Hall was duly handed over to the University by the Government of Bombay, on the 31st December last.

The Syndicate cannot conclude this Report of the past Academical year without referring to the death of the late valued Registrar of the University, James Taylor, Esquire, and of the late Dr. Bhau Daji.

At a meeting of the Senate held on the 31st July last, the following Resolution, with reference to Mr. Taylor, was unanimously passed :—

"The Senate expresses its deep sense of the loss which the University has sustained by the death of Mr. James Taylor, who was appointed one of its Fellows in 1867, and who from the following year held the Office of Registrar; and records its high appreciation of his services to the University, and to the cause of education generally."

With reference to Dr. Bhau Daji, the following Resolution was also unanimously passed by the Senate at the same meeting :—

"The Senate records its regret at the loss which the University has sustained by the death of Dr. Bhau Daji, G.G.M.C., Hon. M.R.A.S., one of the Fellows mentioned in the Act of Incorporation, and for a long time a Syndic in the Faculty of Arts; and, in doing so, expresses the deep sense it entertains of the high moral character, the great ability, and unwearying perseverance which have made the name of Bhau Daji, not only a household word in the Presidency, and an honour to this University, but one which is widely known as that of a man of science, an Antiquarian, and a Scholar."

THE VICE-CHANCELLOR'S SPEECH.

The Honourable the Vice-Chancellor then addressed the Senate as follows :—

GENTLEMEN OF THE SENATE,—Owing to His Excellency the Chancellor's absence in Kattywar it falls to me to address you at the present Convocation. The report just read offers several topics on which I may be expected to comment. You will be happy to find that the Chancellor's Medal, which was instituted by the late Chancellor, Sir S. FitzGerald, has for the first time been awarded to a gentleman who has successfully passed the M.A. examination in the first class. It has been noted that the Munguldass Nathoobhoy Travelling Fellowship had been conferred on Nánáji Náráyan Váslekar. This gentleman left for England with the intention of entering the University of Edinburgh, and proceeding to the degree of Doctor of Science in Engineering. I am happy to state that news has just been received that Mr. Vâslekar has successfully passed his first examination, and, moreover, was the only successful candidate out of eight who presented themselves. I think this is a fair subject for congratulation. The report also notes the loss the University has sustained by the death of the late Registrar, Mr. Taylor, and of one of the original fellows, Dr. Bhau Daji, and informs you of the resolutions passed thereon by the Senate. I am in hopes that before next Convocation memorials of both these gentlemen will form part of the endowments of the University. But besides these facts, there is one prominent feature in the Report which calls for special observation, viz., the very small number of candidates who have passed the matriculation examination—only 262 out of 1,084. I have noticed that the press have commented on this, and, in some of the communications they have published, attacks have been made, unfairly, in my opinion, on the examiners. The Syndicate, with whom rest the arrangements for the examination, have made it a point to abstain from frequent changes in the Examiners in order that the standard of examination may differ as little as possible from year to year; and they feel sure that more painstaking and conscientious examiners than those who examined this year could not be chosen. But I may be asked, how do you account for this result? I have given the matter much thought, not only now but for some time past, and I have arrived at an opinion, which a comparison of the results of the examinations for the past ten years seems to confirm, that the increasing number of failures is in a great measure to be accounted for by the fact that Government make the matriculation examination a test for admission into the Government service. Hence numerous youths, on arriving at 16 years of age, who have no intention of entering on a collegiate education, go up, many very imperfectly prepared, on the chance of passing; and if they fail they return again and again, until they scrape through or retire from the contest. I find from the returns of the past ten years that, for the first six, eighty per cent. of the passed candidates entered colleges, while during the following three years, subsequent to its being made a test of Government service, the percentage of those entering colleges to the total passed has fallen a little below sixty. I think some remedy should be applied, and the simplest that occurs to me would be to have a separate examination—what in England would be called a middle class examination—as a test for the public service, and I would have this of a less severe nature, and of a more practical character, than the matriculation examination. I say I would make this public examination less severe; and I have come to this opinion because I feel sure that the mass of the rising generation are being educated at too high a pressure. They are, in fact, having too many subjects crammed into them, injuring if not wearing out their powers of mental digestion. It cannot be good for a growing lad, after a day's hard schooling, to be obliged to work at home until nine or ten o'clock at night, and sometimes later, to be ready for the next day, as I am assured is ordinarily the case. At all events such an amount of labour cannot be needed for the greater portion of our youth. I have been in the habit of noticing the candidates for the matriculation examination during the past few years, and I was much struck on the last occasion to see crowding out of the pendall in the Town Hall compound such numbers of thin, pallid and sickly-looking youths. I have also been told by some of the older class of educated Natives that they can now easily tire out their sons and other young relations in ordinary walking exercise. I do not go so far as one of the greatest benefactors to educational establishments in this Presidency, who said to me some time ago :—"In this generation you are destroying the bodies to strengthen the minds; in the next generation both mind and body will fail if you press them so hard." But I do think that it is a matter deserving the greatest consideration at the hands of those at the head of the Educational Department, whether we are not, by the excess of our educational training, injuring the bodily physique of the rising generation. They say at home that 'all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy.' I believe the same holds good out here as regards Bappoo and Krishna and Ahmed and Nowrojee. I have been told that the Native mind, particularly the Hindoo, is so peculiarly constituted that, once set in motion in any one direction, it will work on and on as in a groove and not feel the need of a change, and that in consequence, unless bodily exercise is actually made a part of the educational course, it will not be spontaneously engaged in. If this be true, and I am inclined to think it is, it behoves those who direct the course of education to provide some sort of gymnastic exercises to be undertaken as part of the system. His Excellency the Governor has just been visiting the Rajkumar College in Kattywar, and his account of the way in which the bodies as well as the minds of the young Chiefs are there trained is most cheering. Manly exercises form a part of the curriculum, and if such be necessary for Chiefs and Princes whose future lot will be one of comparative ease and affluence, how much more necessary is it for those who will have to buffet about the world for their living! I take this opportunity of venting these ideas because I feel sure, after more than a quarter of a century's experience, that on some change of this nature in the educational course depends the future health, and therefore the prosperity, of the Natives of this country. There is another topic, one which has been before alluded to by those who have occupied this chair, that we do not find those who succeed in their educational career, and become our graduates, following up their education after they leave college. As I told the students at the Grant College a few days ago, they do not consider the important fact that their real education only then commences, that unless they are content simply to exist and do not desire to grow, they must ever continue 'apt to learn'! I am told that in some of the examinations in the higher grades the examiners find men coming up time after time, and failing on each successive occasion more signally than before. Those who enter on the liberal professions and have to earn their bread by their skill, are obliged in some degree to keep pace with the times; but those who enter the service of the State are too apt to rest content with their lot and find in their daily office routine sufficient for them. Let me warn all against leading such lazy lives. Take example from the late Dr. Bhau Daji; look what he has done for his country; how he studied its early history and its ancient languages, and gave the results of his enquiries to the scientific world; how he made deep research into the hidden mysteries of Sanskrit lore and culled therefrom additional benefits for his deceased fellow countrymen! He studied and searched the past for the benefit of the present and future. Let all take example from this distinguished man's career, not the medical graduate only, but the lawyer and the civil engineer. Looking at the records of old, both to writings and buildings, we may indeed say, "there were giants in those days." Let it be the pride and satisfaction of this University to find its graduates not, as was ably pointed out by one of the leading Anglo-Vernacular papers a few months ago, permitting their exclusively English education to lead them to deny the existence of science and art among their ancestors; not falling behind the alumni of the older educational institutions of the Presidency, but following diligently those pioneers of the study of the past. Let it be said that they perfected what others began, and that the University of Bombay has sent out not mere pedants, much less conceited half-educated striplings; but men who in the State, on the bench, or at the bar, as architects or as physicians, prove themselves, as Dr. Bhau Daji did, worthy of their education, beloved and respected in their lives, and in their deaths honoured and deplored.

The Honourable the Vice-Chancellor having resumed his seat, after a short pause again rose, and pronounced the Convocation dissolved.

Section A.

1. Paraphrase either (not both) of the following passages:— 15

(a.) Let observation, with extensive view,
Survey mankind, from China to Peru,
Remark each anxious toil, each eager strife,
And watch the busy scenes of crowded life;
Then say how hope and fear, desire and hate,
O'erspread with snares the clouded maze of fate,
Where wavering man, betray'd by venturous pride
To tread the dreary paths without a guide,
As treacherous phantoms in the mist delude,
Shuns fancied ills, or chases airy good:
How rarely reason guides the stubborn choice,
Rules the bold hand, or prompts the suppliant voice:
How nations sink, by darling schemes oppress'd,
When vengeance listens to the fool's request.

Parse the words in Italics.

"To the Sun."

(b.) The very dead creation, from thy touch,
Assumes a mimic life. By thee refined,
In brighter mazes, the reluctant stream
Plays o'er the mead. The precipice abrupt,
Projecting horror on the blackened flood,
Softens at thy return. The desert joys
Wildly through all his melancholy bounds.
Rude ruins glitter; and the briny deep,
Seen from some pointed promontory's top,
Far to the blue horizon's utmost verge,
Restless, reflects a floating gleam. But this,
And all the much-transported muse can sing,
Are to thy beauty, dignity, and use,

Unequal far—great delegated source,
Of light, and life, and grace, and joy below!

Parse the words in italics.

2. What English words are derived from Tero, Talis, and Phone? 10

Trace the connection between the roots and present meanings of—municipal, examine, summon, pagan, vehement, stratagem, orthography, etymology.

Section B.

1. Write a letter describing your last journey. 10

2. Turn the following passage into the direct narration:— 5

He said that his mother was just then absent from home, but that I should not on that account defer my visit, as she would without doubt return in a few days, and in the meantime I might arrange with him the details of the business which I had mentioned to him at our former meeting.

3. In what metre are the following lines written? Divide each line into metrical feet, and point out any deviations from the ordinary rules of English prosody:— 10

His swift pursuers from Heaven gates discern
The advantage, and descending tread us down
Thus drooping, or with linked thunderbolts
Transfix us to the bottom of this gulf.
Awake, arise, or be for ever fallen!

Section C.

1. Correct the errors in the following:— 15

It will be well if the education is extended to all the persons, and to encourage spread of learning. Such an arrangement like the above Government is making since the last many years, with universal approbation of public. Many a clever persons say education as a best reason of all others of incurring the expense of public. Boys are now learnt to read no sooner are they of eight years in their age. Some much ignorant peoples tell that there is no use of the education; they are despaired of its success, and are very much angry at those who hope all would learn trading by State expense. They called hard names to those who wish that education will be taught by making public expense, charging them of stealing the public of money without needs. It is wonder how they cannot be aware what advantages shall be derived by the education.

2. Write not more than ten original lines on the advantages of the Press. 10

Section D.

1. Explain the grammatical terms—nominative absolute, cognate accusative, copula verb, voice, superlative of eminence. Illustrate your answer by examples. 5

2. For what are pronouns inflected in English? Decline all that can be declined. 6

3. Mention five verbs that in the past tense and past participle both undergo a change of vowel and add d or t; also five that are used both as principal and auxiliary verbs. 5

4 Of what parts of speech may the subject of a sentence consist? Give examples. 9

Analyse according to the subjoined form :—

Had he been blessed with more imagination, wit and fertility of thought than he appears to have had, he would still have been subject to one great disadvantage, which would, in all probability, have for ever prevented him from taking a high place among men of letters.

A wolf at the point of death reviewed his past life. I must, said he, acknowledge that I have been wicked, but not the very worst I have committed many bad actions; that I cannot deny; but I have likewise done much good. Once when a bleating lamb, who had strayed from his flock, approached so near to me that I could have easily devoured it, I spared it. About the same time I bore with patience the invectives of a sheep, although I had nothing to fear from the dogs. Yes, replied a fox, I was witness to all this; I remember well the circumstance; it took place at the time when you had a bone sticking in your throat, which the crane pulled out for you.

The Athenians drew up their fleet in order of battle with great care. The ships were ranged in a double line and divided into four squadrons of 15 each. The Peloponnesians on the contrary ranged their ships in a long single line. The battle was long and obstinate. All order was soon lost, and the ships fought singly with one another. In one of these contests the Peloponnesian leader, who was standing on the prow of the vessel, was thrown overboard into the sea and perished. At length victory began to declare for the Athenians. The Peloponnesians, after losing seventy vessels, retreated. The loss of the Athenians was twenty-five vessels.

1. Vertei para o Portuguez o seguinte :— 50

It is the peculiar effect of virtue to make a man's chief happiness arise from himself and his own conduct. A bad man is wholly the creature of the world. He hangs upon favours ; lives by its smiles; and is happy or miserable in proportion to his success. But to a virtuous man success in worldly matters is but a secondary object. To discharge his own part with integrity and honour, is his chief aim ; having done properly what was incumbent on him to do, his mind is at rest, and he leaves the event to Providence. His witness is in heaven, and his record is on high. Satisfied with the approbation of God, and the testimony of good conscience, he enjoys himself, and despises the triumphs of guilt.

In proportion as such manly principles rule your heart, you will become independent of the world, and will forbear complaining of its discouragements.

2 Vertei para o Inglez o seguinte :— 50

E' um segredo de nossa constituiçaõ naõ sentirmos o prazer em toda a sua vivacidade, se os revezes naõ o tem aguilhoado. Ou seja um effeito de nossa miseria, ou um desenvolvimento da providencia, o homem nunca é verdadeiramente feliz, se a maõ da desventura naõ se tem estendido para repellir seus esforços, ou tyrannisar seus projectos. O homem parece necessitar destes toques violentos para sentir o verdadeiro valor dos bens, que elle possue Nossa alma se engrandece, nossas sensaçoens adquirem un novo grão de intensidade no meio dos embates da tribulaçaõ : a felicidade tem uma energia, que ninguem é capaz de definir. Só coraçoens ulcerados podem avaliar o enthusiasmo, com que se abraça um amigo escapado aos desastres. A alma de Jonathas se derrama com mais effusaõ na alma de David, depois que a lança de seo pae se quebrou sem atravessar o seu amigo.
